MOBERLY

MISSOURI.

Our northern suburbs and five miles square of country adjacent was considerably agitated one night last week by a lone fisherman staying out beyond fishing hours. The kind of bait he took along being properly vouched for, he is excused this time. Next time he will be converted into a bell-wether, so he can be located.

Jan. J. Ward, some-time cock-a-doodle-do about daylight in Keytesville, now rousing the neighbors in Webb City, is here for a few days visit to his mother and other relatives. Toof don't look like hunting and fishing is good in the country where they dig up sinkers and shot.

Heber Hays and John Hays autoed over from Salisbury Wednesday afternoon. Heber doing missionary work and John supplying bizzle water to the thirst parlor. It was an auto trip over but came near being a heel and toe trip back, the machine behaving badly.

Special Sales.

You should not fail to attend the special sale of ladies white waists Saturday at the store of L. E. Cox & Co.

A jolly party of fishermen left Monday to put in a few days catching big fish from the Chariton near Bluffrock. Camp officers were selected by electing Jim Worham bait catcher, Al Harding angler, O.
